

Tamia Hill

Jr. Project Manager

EDUCATION

University of Georgia

Bachelor of Arts in Public Relations

University of Georgia

Master of Arts in Journalism and Mass Communication

SUMMARY OF ROLE & RESPONSIBILITIES

Consultant for Stakeholder /Community Outreach

Tamia is a Junior Project Manager at Nickel Works Consulting, where she plays an integral role in supporting and overseeing public involvement and stakeholder engagement. She assists with the strategic development and execution of CID formation and expansion efforts, directly engaging with property owners, stakeholders, and community members. Tamia coordinates and monitors both internal and external projects, ensuring they align with organizational goals and community needs. She also helps facilitate stakeholder meetings, charrettes, and board meetings. In addition to her project management responsibilities, Tamia conducts in-depth research on property and business information, analyzing and manipulating data to provide valuable insights that support decision-making and project success.

- West End CID
- Assembly CID
- Stone Mountain LCI Project
- MARTA Clayton County Transit Initiative

Relevant Project Experience

West End Community Improvement District (CID)

Public Safety Initiative: Board Meeting Planning, Stakeholder Outreach, Research & Analysis, Coordination, Communications

MARTA Clayton County Transit Initiative

Community Engagement: Event Planning, Coordination, Communications

Assembly Community Improvement District (CID)

Economic Development: Board Meeting Planning, Stakeholder Coordination, Communication

Stone Mountain Livable Centers Initiative (LCI) Project

Public Involvement: Community Outreach, Survey Development & Data Collection